TIMELINE

2003: Tucker retired from the national snocross tour to race motorcycles full-time.

04-06: Three winters in a row, he competed in only one snocross event yearly, ESPN Winter X Games; winning two silver medals.

06-07: Fall of 2006, he formed team Monster Energy/Arctic Cat and returned to the national snocross tour for a limited schedule. He won four finals and reclaimed the Winter X Games gold medal. After snocross, he competed as a privateer on the AMA Supercross and Motocross tours.

07-08: He repeated a limited schedule with Monster Energy/Arctic Cat, winning nine pro finals and the Pro Stock Points Championship. Again, he won the Winter X Games gold medal.

08-09: He was undefeated at all four national snocross events [both pro stock and pro open, including heat races] and won his third consecutive Winter X Games gold medal.

09-10: He will compete in the first five national snocross events and the Winter X Games [Snocross and Knock Out.]
